

EDITION 62 - MENTAL HEALTH

CALL FOR ARTICLES
Deadline: May 13, 2022

HPHR Journal (formerly Harvard Public Health Review) announces a call for submissions for the upcoming thematic edition addressing mental health.

We are especially interested in research, evidence-based editorials, videos, and/or written reflections leveraging innovative theoretical perspectives and methodologies, as follows:

- Interventions to diagnose and address depression, anxiety, stress disorders, and other conditions
- Suicide prevention
- Interactions between mental health and other public health priorities (e.g. substance use / addictive behaviors, violence, eating disorders)
- Protecting mental health in particular populations (e.g. pregnant people, youth, older adults, veterans, people who identify as a minority, unhoused people, incarcerated and court-involved people, migrants and asylum-seekers)
- Reducing isolation and loneliness, including during and beyond the COVID-19 pandemic
- Policies and strategies for destigmatization in mental health
- Role of physicians in promoting mental health and well-being
- Ensuring culturally-appropriate mental health services
